

OVER THE WATER TO MARRY

MILAN RUSSELL MADE MRS. CHATTERJIN IN HOBOKEN.

Justice Mosler Officiates—The bride was in Peabody with a bouquet to match her relatives, a few friends of the groom, and a reporter or two. There, in the drawing room yesterday morning about the hour when good people were going to church and happy people were going to the city, Milan Russell, of New York, and his bride, Mrs. Chatterjin, of Hoboken, were married by Justice Mosler.

The ceremony was a quiet affair, and the bride was in Peabody with a bouquet to match her relatives, a few friends of the groom, and a reporter or two. There, in the drawing room yesterday morning about the hour when good people were going to church and happy people were going to the city, Milan Russell, of New York, and his bride, Mrs. Chatterjin, of Hoboken, were married by Justice Mosler.

The ceremony was a quiet affair, and the bride was in Peabody with a bouquet to match her relatives, a few friends of the groom, and a reporter or two. There, in the drawing room yesterday morning about the hour when good people were going to church and happy people were going to the city, Milan Russell, of New York, and his bride, Mrs. Chatterjin, of Hoboken, were married by Justice Mosler.

The ceremony was a quiet affair, and the bride was in Peabody with a bouquet to match her relatives, a few friends of the groom, and a reporter or two. There, in the drawing room yesterday morning about the hour when good people were going to church and happy people were going to the city, Milan Russell, of New York, and his bride, Mrs. Chatterjin, of Hoboken, were married by Justice Mosler.

The ceremony was a quiet affair, and the bride was in Peabody with a bouquet to match her relatives, a few friends of the groom, and a reporter or two. There, in the drawing room yesterday morning about the hour when good people were going to church and happy people were going to the city, Milan Russell, of New York, and his bride, Mrs. Chatterjin, of Hoboken, were married by Justice Mosler.

The ceremony was a quiet affair, and the bride was in Peabody with a bouquet to match her relatives, a few friends of the groom, and a reporter or two. There, in the drawing room yesterday morning about the hour when good people were going to church and happy people were going to the city, Milan Russell, of New York, and his bride, Mrs. Chatterjin, of Hoboken, were married by Justice Mosler.

The ceremony was a quiet affair, and the bride was in Peabody with a bouquet to match her relatives, a few friends of the groom, and a reporter or two. There, in the drawing room yesterday morning about the hour when good people were going to church and happy people were going to the city, Milan Russell, of New York, and his bride, Mrs. Chatterjin, of Hoboken, were married by Justice Mosler.

The ceremony was a quiet affair, and the bride was in Peabody with a bouquet to match her relatives, a few friends of the groom, and a reporter or two. There, in the drawing room yesterday morning about the hour when good people were going to church and happy people were going to the city, Milan Russell, of New York, and his bride, Mrs. Chatterjin, of Hoboken, were married by Justice Mosler.

The ceremony was a quiet affair, and the bride was in Peabody with a bouquet to match her relatives, a few friends of the groom, and a reporter or two. There, in the drawing room yesterday morning about the hour when good people were going to church and happy people were going to the city, Milan Russell, of New York, and his bride, Mrs. Chatterjin, of Hoboken, were married by Justice Mosler.

The ceremony was a quiet affair, and the bride was in Peabody with a bouquet to match her relatives, a few friends of the groom, and a reporter or two. There, in the drawing room yesterday morning about the hour when good people were going to church and happy people were going to the city, Milan Russell, of New York, and his bride, Mrs. Chatterjin, of Hoboken, were married by Justice Mosler.

RIOING IN BRIDGEPORT.

Street Cars Unsettled by Symphonies With Stick-Players-Police Powerless.

BRIDGEPORT, Jan. 21.—The strike of the employees of the traction company, which began Saturday afternoon, assumed a serious nature today. During last night and to-day trains have brought men from Newark and New York, sent by a detective agency. Some of these started out to-day with horse cars. The strikers were assembled in St. Joseph's Hall, and took no part in the demonstration. Public sympathy is with the strikers.

One car got as far as Congress street when a mob returned it, smashed the windows, and set the car on fire. A second car was overturned, and then the entire police force of thirty-six men tried to disperse 2,000 persons at the scene. At that time nearly 5,000 persons had gathered about the station in East Bridgeport. The rough element began to throw stones. The tracks were soon barricaded with old cars, wagons, lumber, barrels, and stones.

The Mayor, backed by the police, tried to address the crowd, but they jeered him. President Helt then turned the road and all its branches over to the strikers for their protection. The Police Commissioners have appealed to County Sheriff Clarkson for aid, and it is expected that he will call out the militia. Many persons were thrown over the law, and were thronged. Policemen were injured with stones. Another policeman was killed by a stone, and a horse was killed by a stone.

The strike was caused by the discharge of four men. No reason was given for this, and men from New Jersey were substituted. This was in violation of an agreement made last summer to settle a strike at that time. The men were discharged for striking the cars because the traction company has not kept faith with the city.

The main road, as well as the one to Stratford, and all branches, was bought by a syndicate for about $700,000. The capital stock has been increased to $2,000,000, and $700,000 worth of bonds were issued. The syndicate was made to the Common Council that electricity would be used. Most of the streets have been given up to the company.

Instead of fulfilling their promises, a lot of old cars were brought from Boston and twelve of J. A. Sharp's Broadway cars from New York. These have been drawn by added horses. The men work fourteen hours for $1.75.

According to the charter at least one car must be run every twenty-four hours. The citizens are so disgusted with the traction company that it is proposed to prevent the trial of any car.

The strike is held a meeting at 11 o'clock today. State Organizer McEwen and General Organizer Webb of the American Federation of Labor were present, and with the exception of five men brought from New Jersey, the men voted to stand together. The labor unions have agreed to cooperate with the strikers.

The strike is held a meeting at 11 o'clock today. State Organizer McEwen and General Organizer Webb of the American Federation of Labor were present, and with the exception of five men brought from New Jersey, the men voted to stand together. The labor unions have agreed to cooperate with the strikers.

The strike is held a meeting at 11 o'clock today. State Organizer McEwen and General Organizer Webb of the American Federation of Labor were present, and with the exception of five men brought from New Jersey, the men voted to stand together. The labor unions have agreed to cooperate with the strikers.

The strike is held a meeting at 11 o'clock today. State Organizer McEwen and General Organizer Webb of the American Federation of Labor were present, and with the exception of five men brought from New Jersey, the men voted to stand together. The labor unions have agreed to cooperate with the strikers.

RESCUED IN GREAT STYLE.

LORD, SEND A FRENCHMAN, GLOUCESTER. TERMEN WILL EVER PRAY.

The Sixteen Men on the Steamship La Bretagne, who were rescued yesterday, were rescued in a most remarkable manner. The ship was wrecked on the coast of Newfoundland, and the crew was stranded for several days. A French fishing vessel, the La Bretagne, happened upon them and rescued them.

The ship was wrecked on the coast of Newfoundland, and the crew was stranded for several days. A French fishing vessel, the La Bretagne, happened upon them and rescued them. The crew was rescued in a most remarkable manner.

The ship was wrecked on the coast of Newfoundland, and the crew was stranded for several days. A French fishing vessel, the La Bretagne, happened upon them and rescued them. The crew was rescued in a most remarkable manner.

The ship was wrecked on the coast of Newfoundland, and the crew was stranded for several days. A French fishing vessel, the La Bretagne, happened upon them and rescued them. The crew was rescued in a most remarkable manner.

The ship was wrecked on the coast of Newfoundland, and the crew was stranded for several days. A French fishing vessel, the La Bretagne, happened upon them and rescued them. The crew was rescued in a most remarkable manner.

The ship was wrecked on the coast of Newfoundland, and the crew was stranded for several days. A French fishing vessel, the La Bretagne, happened upon them and rescued them. The crew was rescued in a most remarkable manner.

The ship was wrecked on the coast of Newfoundland, and the crew was stranded for several days. A French fishing vessel, the La Bretagne, happened upon them and rescued them. The crew was rescued in a most remarkable manner.

The ship was wrecked on the coast of Newfoundland, and the crew was stranded for several days. A French fishing vessel, the La Bretagne, happened upon them and rescued them. The crew was rescued in a most remarkable manner.

The ship was wrecked on the coast of Newfoundland, and the crew was stranded for several days. A French fishing vessel, the La Bretagne, happened upon them and rescued them. The crew was rescued in a most remarkable manner.

SHE WENT UNDER THE ICE.

Miss Blauvelt's Remarkable Escape from Drowning in Collingwood's Pond.

Westwood, N. J., Jan. 21.—Miss Ida Blauvelt, aged 18, a daughter of Constable William J. Blauvelt, the proprietor of the Collingwood Hotel at Eastwood, was the central figure in an skating accident last night, and Charles Collingwood, a clerk with L. C. Trafts & Co., 121 Elm street, New York, was the rescuer. About forty young people were enjoying the skating on Adam Collingwood's pond, where the ice was in good condition save in one spot. Miss Blauvelt, having been carried from the main sheet at an air vent, Miss Blauvelt and her escort, Edward Humphrey, were so much engrossed in conversation that they failed to notice the danger.

She left Gloucester on Dec. 18, and was returning with a good catch when she got tangled in a southeast gale off Banquereau, northeast of Sable Island. The gale shifted to northeast and finally got around to the north. The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind. The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind.

The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind. The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind. The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind.

The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind. The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind. The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind.

The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind. The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind. The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind.

The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind. The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind. The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind.

The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind. The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind. The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind.

The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind. The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind. The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind.

The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind. The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind. The schooner was blown to the north by a gale of wind.

GRAVE CRISIS IN SERBIA.

THE CABINET RESIGNS IN HASTE AT THE NEWS OF MILAN'S COMING.

He is joyfully welcomed by his son, the King—Great excitement and anxiety in Belgrade—A report that Milan intends to take supreme command of the army—Rumor that the King has been murdered.

VIENNA, Jan. 21.—Ex-King Milan of Serbia, who has been in exile at Belgrade, is expected to return to his capital, and he is expected to return to his capital, and he is expected to return to his capital.

The King is expected to return to his capital, and he is expected to return to his capital, and he is expected to return to his capital.

The King is expected to return to his capital, and he is expected to return to his capital, and he is expected to return to his capital.

The King is expected to return to his capital, and he is expected to return to his capital, and he is expected to return to his capital.

The King is expected to return to his capital, and he is expected to return to his capital, and he is expected to return to his capital.

The King is expected to return to his capital, and he is expected to return to his capital, and he is expected to return to his capital.

The King is expected to return to his capital, and he is expected to return to his capital, and he is expected to return to his capital.

The King is expected to return to his capital, and he is expected to return to his capital, and he is expected to return to his capital.

DOINGS IN RIO DE JANEIRO.

A Report that Gen. Menaes Has Entered the Harbor With 8,000 Insurgents.

London, Jan. 21.—Newspapers here publish a despatch from Rio de Janeiro saying that Gen. Menaes has entered the harbor with 8,000 men, and that he has taken possession of the city.

The Government is fully prepared for a battle, but the Minister believes that the rebels will be able to starve the city rather than risk a naval battle.

This may be done in two ways: either by sending the Pernambuco fleet out to blockade the mouth of the harbor of Rio and cut off any supplies that might come from the coast, or by sending the fleet out to blockade the harbor.

The Government is fully prepared for a battle, but the Minister believes that the rebels will be able to starve the city rather than risk a naval battle.

The Government is fully prepared for a battle, but the Minister believes that the rebels will be able to starve the city rather than risk a naval battle.

The Government is fully prepared for a battle, but the Minister believes that the rebels will be able to starve the city rather than risk a naval battle.

The Government is fully prepared for a battle, but the Minister believes that the rebels will be able to starve the city rather than risk a naval battle.

The Government is fully prepared for a battle, but the Minister believes that the rebels will be able to starve the city rather than risk a naval battle.

The Government is fully prepared for a battle, but the Minister believes that the rebels will be able to starve the city rather than risk a naval battle.

DR. TALMAGE WILL RESIGN.

HE MADE THE ANNOUNCEMENT IN THE TABERNACLE LAST NIGHT.

He will leave next spring at the close of his twenty-fifth year as Pastor—His Plans for the Future Not Definitely Formed, but He Will Continue to Preach.

The Rev. Dr. D. W. Talmage, at the close of the services last evening announced to his congregation in the Brooklyn Tabernacle that he had decided to resign his position.

The church was crowded to the doors, and when Mr. Talmage made the announcement men and women were almost speechless with surprise for several minutes.

There had been no intimation of such a thing. His text was from Leviticus, vii. 17: "And he shall wipe away all tears from their eyes." When the sermon was finished Dr. Talmage said:

"I have an announcement to make which may have been foretold by the prophet. I have decided to resign my position as Pastor of this church. I will leave next spring at the close of my twenty-fifth year as Pastor."

"This coming spring I will have been pastor of this church twenty-five years. A quarter of a century is long enough for any minister to preach in one place. At that anniversary I will resign my position. It will be occupied by such person as you may select."

"Though the work has been arduous, because of the unparalleled necessity of building three great churches, two of them destroyed by fire, the field has been delightful and blessed of God."

"No other congregation has ever been called upon to build three churches, and I hope no other pastor will ever be called to such a fearful and tremendous undertaking."

"My plans after resignation have not been developed, but I shall preach, both by voice and newspaper, as long as my life and health will permit. I have been a united people, and my recent illness has been a great trial to me. I have been a united people, and my recent illness has been a great trial to me."